2. What Was Accomplished:

Achievements:

good communication with the team, supervisor, client, and Redback team

3. What Was Not Accomplished:

Unfinished Work: Unfinished Task assigned and need more details on the sprint plan

Reasons: Lack of communication and lack of professional knowledge

4. Review of Sprint Process:

Process Assessment: the process itself is good on the first sprint

Positive Aspects: Good initiative roles assigned and team building

Areas for Improvement: Identify any process-related challenges or areas that need improvement.

5. Client and supervisor Feedback:

Client and supervisor Input: Good team building, good roles assigned, need more communication on Zoom, Slack, WeChat, and on-campus

Response to Feedback: We get this feedback communicate it in the meeting, and try to do better in the next sprint

6. Conclusion:

In sprint1 we not only had a face-to-face team building session, but we also added our contact details for ongoing communication. The roles were assigned according to the expertise. Completing every document and design drawing in the first sprint1 to ensure continuous development and incremental delivery in the next sprint.

7. Next Sprint Goals:

The main thing is to continue to maintain a good team communication atmosphere, for each person to complete their role of individual tasks, continue to contact with clients and supervisors, continue to receive feedback, and improve. If there are team members who need help, everyone will play to his/her strengths, help others, and try not to delay the delivery of tasks.
